

Caspari
Foundation
helping vulnerable children to learn

About us...

Caspari Foundation believes that all children who need help with development and learning should have access to affordable and appropriate support for their needs. We work towards these aims by providing educational psychotherapy for children and young people, support for families, training for teachers and others who want to learn about the emotional aspects of learning difficulties and training for teachers who want to become educational psychotherapists.

For further details contact:
Tracy Briggs (Administrator)
Tel: 020 7704 1977
E: admin@caspari.org.uk

Reaching and teaching troubled children

understanding the emotional health needs of school-children

Does your work bring you into contact with children and young people who have emotional barriers to learning?

'Reaching and teaching troubled children' gives participants an opportunity to explore and develop a deeper understanding of the emotional factors which affect children's learning and their confidence in forming relationships.

Who will find this course useful?

The course is for you if you are a

- Teacher
- Classroom assistant
- Learning mentor
- Head of year
- Learning support unit co-ordinator
- Pastoral care co-ordinator
- SENCO
- Psychologist
- Speech therapist
- Social worker
- Counsellor

Why should I attend?

The course will help you to:

- develop therapeutic teaching skills for working with children with emotional, behavioural and learning difficulties
- learn about educational psychotherapy concepts and approaches to working with and supporting troubled children
- gain a better understanding of child and adolescent mental health issues in school settings
- understand the impact of mental health issues at a child, family and school level

What others say about the course...

Excellent...
Very informative and helpful...
[I was] able to take away real ideas that work in the classroom

Course content The course lasts two terms and comprises a programme of seminars and a weekly work discussion group. Each week begins with the discussion group, which is an opportunity to benefit from the experiences of others as well as for you to reflect on your own experiences working with children. The programme of seminars is taught by trained educational psychotherapists and other experienced professionals.

Venue and date

London, September 2009. Seminars are held at Caspari Foundation, Islington N1

Fee
£450

Really good to have some time and space to think about my own practice and my relationship with children and staff at school

This is a huge revelation that has allowed me to have a great understanding of the issues affecting children

Name Profession

Place of work

Address

..... Postcode

Tel Email

To register your interest in attending this course please complete and return this reply slip and send it to Tracy Briggs (Administrator), Caspari Foundation, 1 Noel Road, London N1 8HQ